

District 7450 Rotary Leader

Volume 6 Number 9

March 2012

Message from DG Bonnie

Is your Rotary Club ready to join Rotary International in a growing project called "Rotarians at Work Day?"

Join more than 100,000 Rotarians across the world as Clubs and Districts plan and execute service projects on the same day, April 28. The Power of Many!

Last year 42 of District 7450's 53 Clubs participated. Many coordinated with their Interact and Rotaract Clubs, making an intergenerational service project. How appropriate for an organization where "Service" is our middle name and the avenue of most growth is New Generations.

The goal this year is to include more Clubs, more Interactors, more Rotaractors in the most engaging service projects that will MAKE A DIFFERENCE in our communities and in the lives of our fellow citizens.

Think of the press and promotional impact of every Club in the District doing a service project on the same day, sporting "Rotarians at Work" shirts and signs, press releases with photos to the local media. Put your club and your community on the front page!

As I review the list of last year's projects I see: electronics recycling, War Memorial clean ups, town clock beautification, Heinz Wildlife Refuge work, graffiti removal, Adopt-a-Plot and environmental education, home repair with Good Works, Newlin Grist Mill project, Briar Bush Nature Center work, Rotarians Support the Homeless, Malaria Eradication Conference, Multiple Sclerosis Walk, Paint it - Fix it - Plant it, Easter Fund support, Charity Fun Fair, Gloria's Day of Gardening, Senior Center spring cleaning, construction at the "Garage" Youth Center - plus road, park, historic site and watershed clean ups all over District 7450.

Ask your Club president to identify your "Rotarians at Work Day" chairman. Discuss the most powerful projects you have in your community.

Register your project with the District; use the press releases the District provides for you, get "Rotarians at Work" shirts for greater impact, take pictures, invite your Rotaractors and Interactors; invite prospective members.

And most of all, have FUN and be PROUD to be a ROTARIAN AT WORK!

RI president-elect welcomes DGE David Ellis at conference

District Polio Funds higher: $2,015,482 since '85

Last month I announced the grand total of contributions from District 7450 to PolioPlus. Rotarians Jane Williams and Hogie Hansen felt the number provided by RI was low. They did a little detective work and found that RI's database only goes back to July 1, 1988. Checking the archives from 1985 to 1988 produced a new number which is half million dollars higher:

The total donations to PolioPlus from District 7450 is (drumroll, please) $2,015,482!

On February 23, the PECO building lights read "Rotary's Polio Eradication 99 percent complete! 2 billion children inoculated" in celebration of Rotary's 107th birthday.

District 7450 can take great pride in the significant role we have played in this fight since 1985. We truly stand on those who took the leadership role in 1985 and have continued to where we are today.

Thank you to you who have truly led the way!

RYLA weekend filled with facts, workshops, and laughter and fun

A total of 78 high school students gathered at Freedoms Foundation in Valley Forge the last weekend in February for the Rotary Youth Leadership Award. In between programs designed to help the participants learn leadership skills for today and throughout their lives, there was time for getting to know each other and for having a good laugh while a photographer was trying to line them up for a photograph.

78 young people attend 2012 RYLA weekend

Maria Mills-Torres of Madrugadores Rotary Club and long-time RYLA program chair, addresses students.

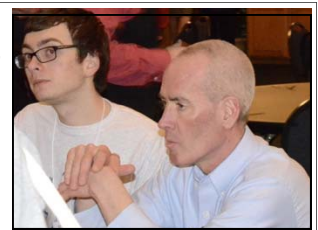

RYLA, Rotary Youth Leadership Awards program, took place February 24-26 at Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge. Seventy-eight high school men and women attended. They created a new vision of where they could go in the next year and for a lifetime. Rotaractors and Rotarians helped to facilitate the weekend providing an opportunity for each to see how a life of service can be fulfilling. Students learned leadership skills, visioning, and experienced the free enterprise system. They learned how to recognize their own talents and those of their associates.

One teacher in a school with first time RYLA participants, said, "The girls had an absolutely amazing time at RYLA! Our next meeting is March 10 and the girls will be sharing about their experience. Thank you for your continuous support for our kids!"

DGE Dave Ellis commented, "Thanks go to Karen Mazzarella, Ethel Ann Murphy, Bob Listerman, Maria Mills-Torres, Brian Casey, Lizabeth Conners, Barbara DeBaptiste, Dave Haradon, Chad Rosenberg, John Washington, Joe Batory, Myrl Brut, Will Fairley, Holly Lankin, Cynthia Lyman, Sharon Quick and more, along with a host of Rotaractors who pulled this all together despite significant unforeseen obstacles"

Ellis added, "Every Rotary Club should be placing a RYLA sponsorship in its budget for next year."

Among the facilitators at RYLA is Abington at Edge Hill Rotarian John Washington (right).

Black History Month program

Philadelphia Rotarians host 'star-studded' visitors

Dashawn Sealy portrays award-winning actor James Earl Jones.

It was perhaps the Rotary Club of Philadelphia's most "star-studded" luncheon meeting ever!

In attendance for the February 23 meeting were: movie producer Spike Lee; statesman and Four-Star General Colin Powell; musician Jimi Hendrix; baseball legend Satchell Paige; and award-winning actor James Earl Jones.

To set the record straight, those world famous

African-American guests were portrayals by students from Philadelphia's St. Martin dePorres School during a wax museum program through which Philadelphia Rotarians were able to generate an autobiographical presentation from each celebrity.

"This has to be one of the most unique programs ever hosted by a Rotary Club anywhere," said Philadelphia Rotary Club president Scott Grande. "These students were remarkable portrayals of history, staying in character and being wonderfully realistic. And the fact that we had this meeting on the 107th birthday of Rotary and during Black History Month made this occasion even more special."

The wax museum presentation was followed by a panel discussion on how this amazing Catholic elementary school continues to exist and does so well despite being located in one of Philadelphia's poorest neighborhoods.

All of the visiting students and adults from the school were guests of the Rotary Club of Philadelphia for the Union League luncheon. Coordinated by Philadelphia Rotarian Jason Mango, the presentation was a day to remember for the Rotary Club of Philadelphia.

Operation Warm' gives out 1 millionth coat February 27 in city

"Operation Warm" distributed its 1,000,000th coat on Monday, February 27, at the Salvation Army office in Philadelphia. The organization originated with the Longwood Rotary Club under leadership of Dick Sanford, (right center in black sweater) a former member of Longwood Rotary Club .

Longwood Rotarians cool off in 'Polar Plunge'

'Cool' Rotarians raise funds for Brandywine Valley Watershed fund

The Longwood Rotary Club once again fulfilled the "Service Above Self" motto as part of a recent fund-raising effort for the Brandywine Valley Watershed Association's annual "Polar Plunge." President Rosemary Gill showed up in a chicken costume in order to avoid the now semi-official role of the Longwood Rotary Club president to lead members in the plunge. Gill chose instead to watch.

Through a spirited membership vote, using dollars as ballots, past president Dave Haradon replaced Gill in the plunge. Haradon, who was the first Club president to take the challenge in 2009, was joined by some Club members and members of the Unionville/Chadds Ford High School Interact Club in taking the plunge in the Brandywine River.

Haradon said, "It was pretty cool!" For the third year in a row the combined efforts of Longwood Rotary Club and the Unionville/Chadds Ford High School Interact Club members had the largest group and total contribution for the Brandywine Valley Watershed Association and received the "Golden Plunger" award. This year's proceeds will be over $1063. Participants must enter the 32-degree Brandywine River, cross over and back while also "plunging" their head under the freezing water at least once.

Longwood Rotary Club president Rosemary Gill, who showed up as a chicken rather than in a bathing suit, and Rotary Exchange student Federica Milani arrive for the Polar Plunge fundraiser.
