

Wednesday, July 28, Rotary Night at the Phillies

Check out the Rotary “End Polio Now” shirt proudly worn by Rotary District 7450 Governor Joan Batory when she threw out the ceremonial 1st pitch Wednesday, July 28, at the Phillies game. Better yet, check out Joan’s “on the field friends” in the background(L-R) Phillies batting coach Greg Gross, Manager Charlie Manuel, star 1st baseman Ryan Howard and rookie sensation Domonic Brown)

The Glee Club of the Rotary Club of Philadelphia, directed by its resident tenor Paul Welde (at left), delivered a spectacular vocal rendition of the National Anthem before the “Rotary Night at the Phillies” game Wednesday, July 28.

That’s Joan Batory, Rotary District 7450 Governor, talking about that “perfect strike” she threw as the ceremonial 1st pitch at the “Rotary Night at the Phillies” game Wednesday, July 28.
