

On December 2nd, the newly reorganized Neshaminy Interact Club met. This club is jointly supported by the Langhorne and Feasterville Rotary Clubs. The officers highlighted the many projects already underway, including a holiday cookie give away for a shelter and a gift wrapping program. From left: Tatiana Urusow, secretary; Rachel Bell, treasurer; Jasmine Joseph, vice president; Caraline Cugley, director; Karen Forth, president; and Suzi Drake, advisor.

Ward McMasters of the Langhorne Club and Area One Rotary Foundation Advisor talked to the group about polio and the Polio Plus program before showing the google documentary: The Last Inch.
